Information Requested

Air curtains are currently out of stock and are expected to have a lead time of 6-8 weeks, with availability most likely in October. Although we would prefer to wait for the specified curtains to be back in stock, the tight project schedule prompted us to look for alternatives. The only available option we found has a lead time of 3-4 days. However, this alternative differs slightly in specifications from the original product.

We request the engineers to review the proposed alternate and advise on the appropriate course of action.
